Literacy Order and position of sharps and flats

Ireland

The order in which sharps and flats appear in a key signature is important. The position of the sharps and flats on the staff is equally important. The order never changes but the position will vary depending on the clef used. Although there are more than 4 clefs in music notation, the treble, bass, alto, and tenor clefs are the most common. This chart has been created as a study aid and reference point.
